

Arizona Type Brace

Description

This is a custom molded leather brace that is used to support the rear foot and ankle joint. For patients who have severe instability and degenerative arthritis, this brace often is used to help relieve discomfort and improve function.

It comes in different heights and thicknesses depending on the patient's diagnosis

