Tell us the story about this physician including specific examples of situations, actions and outcomes.

I have known Dr. Audrey Weissman for over 35+ years as my primary physician. She is a New York-based Northwell Health physician who specializes in Allergy and Immunology in Internal Medicine. She has been an advocate and ally when it comes to managing my health with my asthma and severe allergies. She explains every test and reviews my medications. She tries to introduce new medications that can assist w/my chronic asthma and severe allergies. She is extremely passionate about all of her patients' care and wellbeing. I have sat in the waiting room for a bit because she takes her time with each individual patient. If you are a new patient, expect to be there for 45min-1hr as she does a thorough intake. She is always available either by text or email. Her office is efficient and quick to get back to me. I have done tele visits w/her when I am not able to go to her. I live in Westchester but on the weekends, I am in Queens. This makes it easier for me b/c she has Saturday hours. She has a registered nurse that specifically focuses on allergy testing and administering allergy shots. Her practice provides other specialties as well. Over 10 years ago, I had moved to Florida and even then, she was able to provide me with emergency care when I needed asthma medication during my visits to NY when i came in for the holidays.

Her background is quite impressive. She interned at the Zucker School of Medicine for Internal Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell back in 1985 and did her residency at Rutgers Health/Robert Wood Johnson Medical School in 1986. Followed by her fellowship at Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai in Allergy and Immunology, 1988. She is a board-certified internist. Dr. Weissman is a member of numerous organizations: American Academy of Allergy, Asthma, Immunology, New York Allergy Asthma Society, Queens County Medical Society and a few others. She currently has hospital privileges in 4 major hospitals in Queens. Her office accepts all major insurances as well as Medicaid and other government assisted programs to provide healthcare to ensure no one is denied care. Back in January 2023, she was named a "Practice Champion" from the American Academy of Allergy, Asthma & Immunology. A Practice Champion is a community-based allergist / immunologist who has made a significant contribution to that specialty/community. They recognize medical contributions that go above and beyond the everyday work. She was recognized for her community service. Her patients have gifted her with tokens of appreciation (cards, holiday gifts, letters). Every year, her office sends out holiday cards to all her patients and that is some list. She was recognized by US News Health/Doctors - Best Hospital awards citing her with 3 patient care awards attesting to the care she gives to her patients. Her dedication to her work is never ending.
